Since our Sunday night congregational business meeting the clerks have heard from people who expressed great concern about having another meeting in two or three weeks as announced at the end of our meeting. We have decided to honor those concerns and have invited leaders from each of the emerging congregations to send five people to meet this Saturday at 10 a.m. to discuss possible ways forward. Attached is the letter that the clerks sent to the leaders of each emerging congregation. As a result of this invitation the presiding clerks will gather with the following leaders:
